

REGULATION >> RATE REBALANCING

The closer that rates are to the actual cost, the higher economic efficiency and overall consumer welfare will be achieved. Rebalancing is the process of aligning prices with their underlying costs. It encourages competitive entry from equally efficient or more efficient firms. ERCC provides economic expertise to assist regulators companies in their rebalancing efforts.